1 Technology Update - Java 21

EAIWS 4.18 now requires Java 21 Runtime Environment.

2 Set Manufacturer and Series Name for User-defined and Set Articles

Till now it was only possible to set a manufacturer or series ID for user-defined articles or set articles which led to a different visualization on for example quotes for those articles. With EAIWS 4.18 it is now possible to use operation `setItemProperties` of basket web service to set the manufacturer name and/or series name of user article items and set-article items. For more details especially on restrictions see operation `setItemProperties` in EAIWS specification.

3 Protocol in WSDL

So far clients who wanted to parse the WSDL with the correct protocol needed an EAIWS plugin which corrected the links to the actual SOAP service and had to use a WSDL from an alternative URL (`/EAIWS/WSDL/EAI/Session?WSDL`). With EAIWS 4.18 this plugin is not required anymore. The WSDL provided by EAIWS shows now the protocol configured in `X-forwarded-proto` Header.

4 Further Changes

- Provide PropTitle (added optional field `propertyTitle` to complex type `ArticleData`)
- WSDL now shows the protocol as defined by `X-forwarded-proto` header. Therefore `wsdl_fix` plugin is not required anymore.
- Startup property `egr.eai.basket.arttext` is now recovered after Session Suspend

5 OFML Support
