1 Detection of URLs in pCon.planner comments

A new feature in impress automatically detects URLs shared in comments from pCon.planner and converts them into clickable links. This makes it easier to access shared web content directly from comments without manually copying and pasting URLs into a browser.

2 Improvements

- The application startup has been optimized to provide a smoother launch experience by eliminating the initial blank loading screen.
- The highlight manager has been enhanced to improve the highlighting of articles. When an article is selected, other identical articles are now also highlighted.
